

SPRINGHILL SUITES

The existing property had a dark, traditional design, so this project needed a dramatic design style change. The new Springhill Suites Element, A.I.R., decor scheme is all about contemporary, open spaces with organic lines and cool colors. The watery blue and crisp green fabrics and carpets are set against neutral wall colors and rich wood veneers, creating an upbeat environment.

The existing two-sided fireplace was removed to open the space and allow for the addition of a new curvilinear wall and circular carpet inserts. These circular elements delineate the spaces visually, without the use of walls. The existing registration desk and buffet cabinetry were refaced with stainless accents, cool paint and decorative resin panels. All lighting was replaced with new updated fixtures. New seating consists of a mix of dining area banquettes, curved seating groups and a new communal table. The existing Business center was removed to allow for additional market shelving, and a new computer counter was added to the lobby area. Special features include the lobby chandelier that resembles floating bubbles and the painted 3D accent wall panels at the lobby focal wall and new coffee counter.
